5. Specific Identification of Conflicts of Interest and Measures for their Management

The Company is constantly conducting an in-depth analysis of its business and organisational arrangements including best execution arrangements, inducement practices, remuneration practices and investment research/marketing communication procedures, to ensure that all likely conflict of interest situations are identified regardless of materiality. The Company has identified the following circumstances which give rise to a conflict of interest entailing a risk of damage to the interests of one or more Clients, as a result of providing investment services:

- a) Employee Remuneration Policy: The Company in accordance with its governing legislation does not remunerate its employees based on any factors that create conflicts of interest or are not in favor of the best interest of its Clients. The Company's employees are remunerated (fixed and variable) based on Key Performance indicators within their departments, which are approved by the Compliance Function and Board of Directors. In order for the Company to manage the potential conflicts arising out of this practice, it has put in place the below procedures and arrangements regarding the variable remuneration:
- (i) The variable Remuneration is not provided until a specific period of time has passed. Under this measure, the Company aims to lessen the risk of a short-term speculative mindset especially in sales staff. The variable Remuneration practice is structured to align the long-term interests of the staff and the direct and continuous best interest of the Clients.
 - (ii) The Company awards variable Remuneration only when the relevant departments of the Company or/and the third-party service providers have conducted their duties according to the regulatory requirements (act clear, fair and not misleading).
- b) Tied Agent Remuneration: The Company remunerates its tied agents on the basis of fixed remuneration. At the sole discretion of the Company, the Company may grant a discretionary variable amount up to 100% of the total amount paid to the Tied Agent. Such discretionary variable amount is based upon the Tied Agent's exceptional performance towards the Company and its Clients (including to take all the necessary and due care of the Client and to act in the best interest of the Client and to provide them with fair, clear and not misleading information). For the avoidance of any doubt, nothing is interpreted as the obligation of the Company to provide the Tied Agent with any variable amount. Therefore, the Tied Agent shall not be entitled to any variable amount, unless the Company at its sole discretion decides otherwise. As such the remuneration itself should not give rise to conflicts of interest that may negatively affect the Client and incentivise tied agents towards aggressive marketing tactics or the provision of misleading information to achieve the variable amount.
- c) The Company does not offer, solicit or accept any inducements other than those outlined as fees or commissions.
- d) The Company does not allow its employees to accept any gifts or monetary benefits of any kind which may cause Conflict of Interest. Gifts of low value may be accepted, as long as the Company is informed and approves such gifts (this does not apply to monetary gifts like cash). The Company shall maintain a gifts and inducements log for low value gifts.
- e) Commissions received by its Liquidity Provider:
The Company's Liquidity Provider pays the Company a rebate commission for the order flow sent for execution. In order for the Company to manage the potential conflicts arising out of this practice, it has put in place the below procedures and arrangements regarding the commissions received by its Liquidity Provider:
- (i) The Company has examined this and has recorded how the commissions received from its Liquidity Provider enhance the quality of the services provided to Clients and the steps taken in order not to impair the Company's duty to act honestly, fairly and professionally in accordance with the best interests of its Clients.
 - (ii) The Company declares that this benefit does not induce it to favour the particular Liquidity Provider over other Liquidity Providers and it is confident that the Client would be better off under this arrangement compared to the use/employment of other arrangements (including other Liquidity Providers).

Measures in relation to the Company's Structure/Related parties/Outsourced Service Providers:

- a) The Company has in place non-disclosure and confidentiality agreements with all related parties, outsourced service providers or members of the group in relation to Client's personal information;
- b) The Company controls the information communicated between the Company's entities, related parties and outsourced service providers to ensure no harm to the Client's interests;
